

Gwen Crowell/Core Instructor

Gwen Crowell was introduced to the work of Dr. Milton Trager when she went to massage school in Berkeley. She worked with Dr. Trager from 1978 until his passing in 1997. Attracted by the joyful movement and ease of the work, Gwen was delighted to share The Trager® Approach first with clients and then with students beginning in 1985 when she was one of his instructors.

Gwen was a pioneer in bringing Trager to Washington and has maintained a private practice since 1979. She enjoys listening and attending to people. Through

Trager

, Gwen assists others in sustaining a positive and productive internal awareness, leading to kinder, gentle relationships with themselves and others. As a teacher, she effectively guides students, helping them to anchor moments of understanding and to recognize and celebrate their competencies. She is the designer of this

Trager

Program and a core faculty member at Discoverypoint. Gwen has also been a guest lecturer at Bastyr University and teaches certification classes throughout North America, Europe, and Japan. She enjoys participating in the creative process of and witnessing clients and students transform through the power of touch.

Trager

She returned to the U.S. from the South of France in May of 2012 and she and Sophie are living in an 1890's farmhouse in the Catskill Mountains of New York, surrounded by 100,000 protected acres of the Catskill Forest Preserve. She offers Residential Trainings in this beautiful and healing place and looks forward to creating her medicinal herb and flower essence gardens.

□ □ Bill Scholl/Elective Teacher

Bill began his Trager journey 35 years ago. He studied with Milton Trager for 16 years, and has been teaching the Trager ® Approach since 1986. His approach to teaching creates a space that is engaging, safe and playful. He lives in Zurich, Switzerland with his wife and best friend, Gabriela.

□ □ Roger Tolle/Core Instructor

Through 15 years as a professional modern dancer and extensive study with Dr. Milton Trager and other pioneers in the field of movement education, Mr. Tolle has developed a thorough working knowledge of function in motion and the interconnected influences of mind and body. He currently teaches the TRAGER® Certification Training Program and various experiential workshops around the world. He has produced a series of review videos for

Trager

Students, and two shorter videos about the work which may be seen on his website,
